

SAVINDU SHEHAN

SOFTWARE ENGINEER INTERN

I'm a self-taught programmer who's passionate about technology and innovation. I discovered my interest in programming during my advanced level exam, where I explored the fascinating world of web development. Since then, I've been continuously learning and improving my skills in various web technologies such as HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and PHP. Currently, I am learning new technologies. My goal is to make a positive impact on society by creating innovative AI-powered solutions to real-world problems. To achieve this, I've put my best effort.
